Staging Area: 400 Wyoming b/t Mulberry and Vine (IBEW Building)
Staging Time: 11:30 a.m.
Barony of Endless Hills

March 12 2011 The Barony of Endless Hills will once again march in the Scranton St. Patty's Day Parade! All SCAdians and there friends/family are encouraged to attend!

Meeting Place - Scranton Primary Center - 959 Wyoming Avenue Scranton, PA 18509 - 10:00 AM

As in years past I plan to have my hospitality stand tail gate style in the back of my truck in parking lot before the parade for your pleasure as it is cold and windy usually and we need to warm and fill our tummy's with coffee and donuts!!!

After Party - Perkins Dickson City - right after parade! I will call ahead to let them know we have a large group usually holstering their own cans of whipped cream and WILL be armed and MAY BE dangerous...or at least look the part LOL!!! WHAT'S IN YOUR WALLET LOL!!!

If there are any marshals that are willing to volunteer their services on parade day please contact me.

If anyone would like to volunteer to guard the list fields from the spectators during the parade please let me know as I wish to have a meeting before the parade to practice how this is done.

I would like to do something different this year and have our lovely Baron and Baroness stand out more maybe on the float if they are willing? Make shift thrown set up or something. Moving mock court ? Or something on that order to bring the pageantry and excitement of the SCA out. Any suggestions please contact me. (They agreed to this and we are using a bigger float this year. No castle float this year.

Bards please come and sing an Irish tune at the parade! We want to let everyone know that there is more than fighting to be done in the SCA!

If you can walk and keep your hands busy with sewing please consider walking the parade route and engaging the spectators with your sewing project! Weather permitting!

Portable banners are welcome as long as weather is good for them to be carried or displayed on float etc.

Yes we still have a float. If you can't walk bring a blanket and wave to the crowd while sitting comfortably!

I know there are a lot of out of towners that come in for parade day and if anyone needs a ride or crash space please let me know. I want everyone to be able to attend and have fun with little stress.

New comers! The parade is a great way to introduce a new comer. Please bring your friends, Gold Key can help dress them!!! I even have cloaks to keep them warm : )

Walkers, fencers, heavy fighters, fencing marshals, heavy marshals, do you need garb?, who's bringing water?, do you need a ride?, who needs crash space? And who's coming to the after party? These are the fields to be filled in on the data base I created on the Barony list. Please fill it out if you plan to come to the parade so I know the needs of the group and can address these needs appropriately. Thank you.

If you contact me privately I will add you to the data base myself.

If your not on the Endless Hills list you may send me your info to be added to the data base.

Repost the information to other lists please I have been circulating the info and Eirik has too. If you know a list or group that we may not of hit please feel free to pass it on. You have my permission to give out my email and cell phone #.

Thank You

- Web Minister
As you may know, the website has moved. The address is <http://endlesshills.info>.

There have been some misinformation about the server and the website issues as of late. To clarify this, I wish to state that neither the server nor the website itself was hacked. My personal internet connection was compromised. It was through this, that someone was able to get to the website and make the unwelcome changes.

The situation has been resolved. I have, with the help of a few professionals, updated and re-secured my internet connection and firewalls. I have a brand new hard drive in my computer and am once again secure.

If anyone has any concerns or questions, they can be directed to me privately. I will be more than happy to answer as best I can.

Again, I apologize for any and all inconveniences this has caused and look forward to continuing my term as the Baronial Webminister.
